Description

John Partridge, 1789 – 1872 Portrait of Henry John Temple, 3rd Viscount Palmerston, KG, GCB, PC, FRS, 1784–1865, wearing the Order of the Bath oil on canvas 102 x 82 cm. (40.1/4 x 32.1/4 in.) Provenance Leggatt Brothers Notes Henry John Temple, 3rd Viscount Palmerston, KG, GCB, PC, FRS (20 October 1784–18 October 1865) was a British statesman who served twice as Prime Minister in the mid-19th century. Palmerston dominated British foreign policy during the period 1830 to 1865, when Britain was at the height of her imperial power. He held office almost continuously from 1807 until his death in 1865. He began his parliamentary career as a Tory, defected to the Whigs in 1830, and became the first Prime Minister of the newly formed Liberal Party in 1859. Palmerston succeeded to his father's Irish peerage in 1802. He became a Tory MP in 1807 (his Irish peerage did not bar him from a seat in the House of Commons, because it did not entitle him to a seat in the House of Lords). From 1809 to 1828 he served as Secretary at War, in which post he was responsible for the organisation of the finances of the army. He first attained Cabinet rank in 1827, when George Canning became Pr...
