Description

This Victorian walnut coffee table was made circa 1860. Originally a loo table ('Loo' was a Victorian parlour game) this table has been adapted in its lifetime to make a superb and stunning coffee table. A real conversation piece as the golden colour together with the superb burl walnut top makes this such a standout piece for your home. The shaped oval top with its lovely burl walnut veneers stands on the original quadruple carved walnut legs. This example is of large proportions and is rare to be this wonderful size. There were no coffee tables in the 19th century and so people looked for items that could be used for this use as coffee tables became an important part of the modern home. This style of table is perfect for such a use. Imagine how stunning this will look in your home and the many admiring glances it will get from your family and friends. 167cms long 65 3/4ins 114.5cms deep 45ins 51cms high 20ins All dimensions are approximate.
