Description

A lovely antique Farmhouse table, most likely French, dating from the late 19th / early 20th century. It has a superb planked top and stands on square tapering legs with a small drawer to the side. It is a good size being just under 8ft long but remaining quite narrow and it comfortably seats 10 people. It is a sensible sitting height with a comfortable leg clearance of 24 3/4" (63cm) all around. The table has a lot of character and the patination and wear on the top is lovely and the oak has mellowed to an attractive warm colour. There are two small square holes in one end below the top which has enabled an extension to be put in at some point. It hasn't affected the table structurally and isn't noticeable unless looking under (See photo). There are some signs of age and use, an old solid repair at the top of one leg, some general marks and minor knocks but nothing detrimental and it is a solid and sturdy table.
