SoldItem Reference: SA687064*Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

This is an early Victorian wrought iron garden bench with scrole shaped arms and legs. As you will see I have left it as I found it in what seems to be its original or very old paintwork complete with surface rust. Its approx 8ft in width. All the iron work is in good unbroken condition and no repairs. A recent purchase from a local Mance house where it has been in the same family for over 100 years. Price includes UK mainland delivery.
