Description

This is a pair of hallmarked sterling silver and cut glass perfume bottles. They were assayed in London in 1933. The maker's mark is difficult to decipher. They both have fully hallmarked silver collars and shaped square section cut glass bodies. The sides are engraved with flowerheads. Unfortunately only one of the perfume bottles has a stopper. This is of faceted conical form. There is some wear to the silver collars, there is a small chip to the frosted section of the stopper and there are some small nibbles to the edges of the glass. Otherwise they are in good general condition, with wear commensurate to age.
