Description

A good Victorian mahogany window seat or hall bench dating from the mid to late 19th century. It has scroll ends and a nicely shaped frieze below the seat with turned roundels and it stands on attractive bobbin turned legs. It is in good solid order and a good size, perfect for a hall or window bay. It is in good condition with a lovely rich patina. There are signs of age and use, some surface marks and light knocks and a small old split in one end but nothing detrimental and it is strong and sturdy and displays well. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
