Description

A unique opportunity to acquire a striking version of these ever popular clocks without having to spend a fortune. Most wall clocks are simply timepieces that show you the time but do not strike. This one does both and sounds lovely too. The alternative would be a "fusee" version (if you could find one) that would set you back a fortune. The 8 day, Ansonia movement has just been fully serviced and carries our usual 12mths full parts and labour guarantee. A mahogany surround with a brass bezel and lower opening door. The 12" dial has black Roman numerals with spade hands and has an aged, off white patina giving the clock an overall rustic appearance. It would be particularly suitable for a country style kitchen or similar. A lovely little clock. All cards accepted.
