Description

Gents Recta Minerva pocket watch conversion. The watch has a good quality 17-jewel hand-winding movement, four adjustments, which is working nicely. The movement is signed with the Minerva mark. Originally this watch would have been a pocket watch but at some stage, probably in the 1940s or 50s, it has been professionally converted to a wrist watch. The watch is over-sized at 50mm diameter excluding the onion crown and lugs. The case is nickel and it has a screw-on bezel and case back, a nice sign of quality. The watch glass is in good condition. The dial is signed Recta, just one of the brand names registered by Marchand & Jobin, they also registered Majex and Minerva so here we have a combination of the two. We have seen this before with a Recta Majex wrist watch. The dial is in good original condition with original hands (the infill has been removed over the years). A later leather strap has been fitted. The watch comes in a new presentation box.
