Description

An exquisite example of a Regency mahogany general purpose storage box — ideal for use as a jewellery casket. It has well-figured timbers with an original finish having a rich patination and a glowing lustre shine. The lift-up lid reveals a storage area, and the drawer below — with its fine dovetail construction — provides another useful space. There is a single key, and it operates both the lock to the lid and the lock to the drawer. The lion's-head ring handles to each side are original, as are the four turned mahogany foot supports. This wonderful box is English, and it dates from c.1820s.
