Description

A good quality French Art Deco Clock. The diamond shaped clock face, has good black Art Deco numerals and hands, set on a silvered face and set in a chrome case. The contrasting marbles includes a pale veined orange marble, a darker orange marble and a black marble, which work well with the curved and geometric shape of the clock design. It has an eight day movement and chimes each hour and each half hour. The clock has been recently cleaned and serviced so comes in very good working order. In overall very good condition, but with one chip to one of the back corners of the black marble base, as pictured. Fortunately it doesn't show from the front.
