Description

An interesting Victorian Horae Sacrae - a book of prayers and meditations for private use - published in 1881. Leather bound with gilt tooling on the spine and covers with a cross in relief on front and back. The covers are lined with thick marbled paper. It is edged in fine brass, with a decorative brass clip lock and finger plates front and back. The pages are also embellished with a gilt wavy edge. Inside there is an Introduction by the Vicar of Witley, a List of Authors (including Dr Samuel Johnson) and the Various writings are listed on the Contents page (See photo). Some pages bear small illustrations of cherubs and similar subjects. An extraordinary little book.
