Description

Fine 18thc Oil Portrait of a Lady Circa 1700-1720 Circle of artist Michael Dahl (1659-1743) presented in a beautiful gilt decorative frame. - MICHAEL DAHL (1659-1743) was a painter of exceptional talent and regarded as the only really serious rival to Sir Godfrey Kneller, for royal patronage, during the years 1690-1714. Dahl's patterns were undoubtedly indebted to the fashion set by Kneller, but Dahl had a lighter palette, and his brushwork applied in shorter and more careful strokes. - His self portrait hangs in the National Portrait Gallery and he is famed for having painted a series of wonderful female portraits for the Duke of Somerset, now at Petworth House, and known as the Petworth Beauties. - Dahl's portraits of members of the royal family hang at Kensington Palace and Windsor and other examples of his work can be found at the Tate and National Maritime Museum, Greenwich. - CONDITION Good condition Commensurate with age and ready to hang. - MEASUREMENTS (Including Frame) Height 40.5 Inches (102.9cm) Width 35 Inches (88.9cm) - DELIVERY UK MAINLAND Add + £80.
