Description

An impressive and fine quality late 19th century Austrian COLD PAINTED BRONZE figure of a BULL. Unsigned or stamped but almost certainly the work of Franz Bergman the famous animal sculptor, or one of his followers (the quality of the sculpting and paintwork is typical of his work). The feet bear signs of mounting points, so it is possible that this was once a presentation piece with a description and signatures on the base, now lost. Paintwork remains bright and authentic, with a few minor flakes consistent with its age. Stands solidly, no rocking. A superb and handsome bronze Bull. Weight: 6.25Kgs. Date: c1880-1900
