Description

Made by Henry Pearce of Grantham who was listed as working from 1850 until 1876 in the book of Watch and Clockmakers of the World by Loomes - Vol 2. This fine convex dial timepiece has a truly exceptional 'patina' and looks great on the wall. The proportions of the wood 'surround' and cast brass bezel all work. The original hands are slender and suit the period. The movement is a quality fusee and slightly heavier gauge brass than usual. A very attractive clock and one that really does have to be seen. The dial measures 12". Please try to view this clock in our shop as the colours are difficult to get across on Digital Screen. Sold with a 24 month guarantee.
