Attributed to William Shayer Snr. (1787 – 1879) A Stable interior with a horse and donkey by a briar, baskets and panniers on the floor beside them. Oil on Canvas. William Shayer Snr. painted mostly in Hampshire and the New Forest. Well known for his wooded scenes with gypsies and rustic figures and animals. He exhibited a lot of paintings in major London galleries including six at the London Academy. His work is currently represented at the Tate gallery, Victoria and Albert museum, Arundel Castle, The Fitzwilliam museum, Manchester City art gallery amongst many others. 51 x 61 cms Image Only William Shayer was an English landscape painter and figure painter who became prominent during the Victorian era. William Shayer was a self-taught artist, who began by painting decorations on rush-bottom chairs. He moved on to painting carriages in the town of Guildford, after which he started doing heraldic painting. Ultimately, he began painting oil on canvas and became skilled at portraying woodland scenes with gypsies, people and animals in front of country inns and farm houses, and beach scenes crowded with boats and fishermen. He lived mainly in the south of England, in Shirley,...
