A wonderful freely painted oil painted on location during his travels around Europe while away from his base in Yorkshire as a member of the Staithes Group of Artists. Percy Morton Teasdale R.CAM.A. (1870-1961) Teasdale was born near leeds on the 27th August 1870. His father ran the family cloth dyeing business. Teasdale commenced his art studies at the Leeds School of Art where he came under the influence of Gilbert Foster. He enrolled at Herkomer's Art School in Bushey in 1891 and completed his training at The Academie Julian in Paris. He established a studio in Leeds and supplemented his income teaching at both the Leeds and Harrogate Schools of Art. He was commissioned to paint a tiny landscape for Queen Mary's dolls house at Windsor Castle. In Whitby, Staithes and Runswick Bay Teasdale found the light and variety of paintable subjects irresistible. He spent many summers painting in the region and ...
