Description

Measuring an impressive 27.5 inches (70 cm) by 41 inches (104 cm), this EARLY 19th CENTURY TAPESTRY NEEDLEWORK PANEL has been worked on woven horsehair. With that in mind and with there not being any easily recognisable weave to form the stitches in, the work must have been executed by a very skilled needleperson, as the stitches are very even and the pattern well thought out. It is framed but not behind glass. The condition is good. There are no visible repairs or holes. This needlework displays very well and is a statement piece. Height: 27.5 inches (70 cm) Width: 41 inches (104 cm)
