Description

Pair of early C19th Regency period mahogany library , desk or office armchairs. Superior quality pair of mahogany armchairs raised on finely turned and reeded forelegs fitted with original brass barrel castors . The swept scroll arms with applied turned paterae details . The frame with a well-carved classically-referenced design central lumbar bar . The shaped panel carved top-rail with a gadrooned centre and turned paterae detail terminals corresponding to those on the arms . The padded and upholstered 'stuff-over' seats of wide proportions ,which have been opulently re-covered in our workshops in the traditional manner , using a distressed and aged 'ox-blood' or red Moroccan leather . The seats trimmed with 'double-piped' leather edges with brass stud terminals. Both armchairs in excellent original condition with no breaks or repairs . Rich original colour and patina, having also been cleaned and waxed in our workshops.. Stylish pair of practical and decorative Regency mahogany armchairs which could be utilised in multiple settings. H 32" W 21" D 18" England c. 1820
