Description

The dark side of the Jelly Babies originally called 'Unclaimed Babies' which is very macabre. This is one of the surviving original moulding from that period and I doubt you will ever find another. Most of these mould were destroyed in the war as they were melted down for money. Historians believe that the earliest jelly baby was meant to be jelly bears but the resulting sweets looked more like new born infants and were subsequently given the ghoulish name ...'unclaimed babies'. There is a large article that the BBC wrote on the dark side of the Jelly Babies which you can find on the Internet. I do have another two different ones listed please call or email me if you would like any more information. Many thanks Karen 07866 475069
