Description

This is an antique set of weights. A French, bronze scientific set of apothecary assay weights in beech carry case, dating to the late 19th century, circa 1900. Charming set of weights ideal for a study desk. Displaying a desirable aged patina. Cast bronze weights show appealing weathering. Dark French Beech caddy with fine grain interest. Fifteen weights with chamfered handles. Set comprises of a pleasingly heavy 5kg, a pair of 2kgs and smaller weights. Near complete set, with a solitary absence of the second 2g weight. Caddy dressed with brass corners and showing rich golden tones. Lid retained by way of rotating clasps. A pair of recessed handles with demi-lune pulls aid carriage. Interior with baize lined recesses for each individual balance weight. This is a fascinating antique set of weights, sure to look great at the desk of those with scientific interests. Delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home or office. Dimensions: Max Width: 40.5cm (16") Max Depth: 13.5cm (5.25") Max Height: 14cm (5.5").
