Description

A very old pine single door Armoire, dating from the early 1800's, in very good condition for its age. Known as a "splitter" it separates into 2 main sections for delivery so should be fine going up most stairways. With an internal depth of 17", it should be fine for hanging shirts etc, but may be a little shallow for coats and suits. It would make an ideal child's wardrobe. Can be fitted with a new hanging rail, or shelves if you prefer. Currently in bare wood having recently been stripped. Can be purchased as it is for £590, or waxed for £667. Both prices include the fitting of a hanging rail if required. Can be delivered in one piece, or dismantled. Assembly is fairly straightforward. Please ask for more details. We can often deliver and assemble for you, if you're not too far away. Height: 70", width: 49.5", depth: 21.5", internal depth: 17"
