Description

For your consideration are these fabulously glamorous 1930's Art Deco wall light sconces of larger proportions than normal so we think were likely originally from a commercial building such as a cinema. A rose coloured mirror glass acts as the backdrop to a central foliage of chrome which supports the acrylic frosted wok shaped shade. These lights are very unusual, very glamorous and in superb condition. New chrome bayonet fittings which take a standard size bulb have been fitted and also re-wired. The lights should be tested by a qualified electrician before use. Delivery £15
