Description

This antique golf bag which dates from c1900 is made of dark brown leather, has a side pocket, has developed a nice aged look and would hold a set of hickory clubs. The leather bag is fitted with a strong carry handle, long shoulder strap and a buckled pocket. This decorative and rare golf bag with it's wonderful patina and large leather stitching would be great for displaying hickory clubs and would make a great display item in a shop, bar or golf club. Would make an interesting addition to a collection of golf memorabilia. Weight: 2054 g. Condition: Very good used antique condition with some signs of use in keeping with age. Some cracking and splits to the leather. Carry handle in good condition. Strap has some old repairs. Top piece of umbrella carrying section is missing. Please note that only the golf bag is included. The clubs and other items in the pictures are for display only.
