Description

A beautiful oak stationery cabinet of the highest quality complete with original calendar, dating from the early 20th century. It has with a lovely warm patina and a sloped front with brass shield shaped escutcheon. The doors opens up to reveal a series of racks for holding papers and letters. Above this is a perpetual desk calendar with winding knobs. There is also a pen tray and a pair of glass inkwells with hinged brass tops. Below this there is a large drawer that pulls out. It is in good original condition and although it has been used it has been very well looked after over the years. There are a few small knocks and marks around the outside, general signs of age and use but nothing detrimental. There is a crack across the writing slab in the side door and it does not come with a key but nonetheless it is a nice example. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions at all please ask. Tracked UK delivery £15.
