Description

An ornate pine dresser dating from c.1900, in good solid, clean condition throughout. A tall dresser with a large glazed top cupboard (original glass), with two fitted display shelves inside. The base has two panelled doors that open to a shelf. Beautifully decorated top, and finials, and stood on the original feet which compliment the overall appearance of the piece. Recently stripped to the bare, ready for waxing or painting. Will look very nice in either finish - but in our opinion, ornate and decorative dressers look particularly nice painted. Can be purchased as it is for £750, or waxed for £847. We usually wax inside the top behind glazed doors, so let us know if you'd like us to leave this bare for you. The top separates from the base for delivery and access. Height: 82", width: 45.5, base height: 35", depth: 22", top main body depth: 13".
