Description

A solid gold antique chain necklace in cable link style with secure push clasp. The gold is somewhere between yellow and slightly rosy in colour. Marked 15C, we believe it to date from around the Edwardian era, c.1910. Fifteen-carat gold pieces are not overly common (in the UK only really used between 1854 and 1932) and as this fineness was generally used in high quality pieces, it is attractive to collectors. In excellent antique condition. Length: 22 inches. Weight: 4.6g. Width: 2mm.
