Description

A stunning pair of Edwardian era cut lead crystal bonbonnieres/lidded vases. Superb quality and weight - each one weighs just under one kilo. The main body is cut in a lattice pattern, with thumb slices below and stands on a 12 sided star cut base. The lid fits inside the jar and is cut in an asymmetrical lattice pattern with a multi faceted knob. They are in perfect condition. Together they look stunning and have many potential uses as a cache pot, not just for sweets.
