Description

A 19th Century Kuba Kelleh rug, demonstrating large proportions and rich tones throughout. What a wonderful addition to our rug department! A sense of stateliness conjures up feelings of grandeur not only for its dramatic size but the bold shapes and contrasts in its colours echoing a sense of sophisticated playfulness. The main field design demonstrates bold symmetrical geometric pattern of flowers and vines. Woven on a rich indigo background, the array of tones and colours used throughout lift the carpets palette. A truly exceptional Kelleh carpet ideal for use in an entrance hall, corridor or situated under a dining table. Displaying a semi-high pile, which will bring warmth and drama to any large room giving it great appeal. Kuba rugs originate from the North East of Caucasia's area near the Caspian Sea. Length - 540cm Width - 154cm
