Description

A splendid late Victorian period inlaid rosewood occasional table by James Shoolbred of London. Very well constructed in solid rosewood with attractive rosewood veneers onto a mahogany frame. Of octagonal form, the legs united by an under-tier and terminating in their original castors. Decorated throughout with profuse inlaid detailing in boxwood, satinwood and ivorine. Sympathetically repolished in our workshops to a very high standard and now offered for sale in excellent condition, ready to go straight into the home. Dimensions: Depth and Width 75cms Height 72cms James Shoolbred & Co The name of James Shoolbred & Co is highly respected among admirers of Aesthetic Movement furniture. Their antique desks, Victorian dining chairs and antique marquetry furniture were produced for wealthy households up to 1931. A particularly fine example of James Shoolbred antique marquetry furniture – an ornate piano by designer Henry Batley – is on display at the V & A museum, London. Established in the 1820s, James Shoolbred's Tottenham Court Road company began life as a drapers. It began supplying textiles to the furniture trade, and expanded into the stores either side, branching i...
