Description

A really fine example of a set of four 1930's cast-iron garden chairs in excellent condition, having just been sand blasted and hand painted. Alongside these chairs we have illustrated a very unusual large mid-20th Century garden table, now fitted with a hand made extra large copper top. This is an unusually large table which would allow easily six people around, should you wish. The table has also been sandblasted and hand painted with three coats of paint including special undercoat as have the chairs. They are extremely heavy as is the table, so are very difficult to move. This is a very stylish and unusual set of garden chairs and table, all in fine condition. They would grace any garden patio. Table measures 100cm in diameter. The price shown is for the set, although they can be bought separately; Chairs £990 Table £875
