Description

Super mid 19th century Scottish "Country" oak console hall table of super narrow proportions. Scroll shaped front legs with carved decoration with nicely turned back legs. Top with chamfered edge mould with nice shaped and moulded back. The frieze of the table is a great design with diamond type shaping. The ends are also very nice as can be seen in the pictures. The table is a very pleasing colour with good original patination and waxed finish. Hall tables of this proportion are very hard to find and this is a really nice example. SIZE; 49" wide by 12 1/2" deep (plus the legs as they stick out a bit). 33" high to the top. 39" high overall. CIRCA; 1850 - 1870
