Description

A proper British antique. This wonderful, top, top quality early to mid 19th century twin pedestal sideboard is a design classic. This Victorian handmade sideboard has a raised back with floral detail and scroll outlines. The top of sideboard is of inverted breakfront form, with a single central drawer, flanked by doors and a very unusual cellarette drawer. This is an exceptionally fine piece of furniture that was made during what is considered the best period for quality cabinet making. The piece splits easily into three main parts for ease of transportation.
