These extremely well made pair of side tables often used as lamp tables or bedside cabinets are constructed in the French transitional style. Banded with amaranth, the oval well chosen cuts of figured Lamartine yellow marble tops surmounted by a three-quarter pierced gilt brass gallery, above three book match veneered boxwood strung and amaranth banded drawers with decorative brass bow escutcheons, all fully oak lined with working keys, on square cut cabriole legs and c-scroll sabots.
