Description

Fine Early 18th Century Oak Chest On Stand of superb colour in outstanding original condition, with the original elegant cabriole legs to the base retaining the shaped and carved slipper foot. The handles are original and the drawer linings are in very good clean original condition, just as we like to see them. The drawers are banded with inlaid Walnut, they have a fine lip mould to the edge, a feature of the George I period. The apron is shaped with fine scrolls matching those on the ear pieces to the top of the cabriole legs. The top section of the ends are panelled and the back boards all original.
