Description

This handsome Art Deco set of oak bookends date from the 1930's and are in the form of cricket stumps with each one having a mini bat and ball. These were handmade by the Thornton-Smith Company in the 1930's and have excellent detail. Condition: Very good used antique condition with some light signs of use in keeping with age. A couple of small nibbles, chips and bruises. Please note that only the bookends are included and any other items in the pictures are for display only.
