Description

This late 19th century pietra dura plaque depicts a cavalier drinking from a flagon. It is probably taken from the original painting by Francesco Vienna. This plaque has been superbly worked into a tablet of black marble with an attractive combination of coloured marbles with jasper, lapis, malachite and mother-of-pearl. The detail and execution of this rare item are very fine and in excellent condition and is framed in a contemporary hand made gilt swept frame. Actual size including frame: 31cm high x 19.5cm wide x 3.5cm deep £795
