Description

This is an antique serpentine arm chair. An English, mahogany elbow seat, dating to the Regency period, circa 1820. Attractive arm chair with alluring shape Displays a desirable aged patina – some small marks to upholstery under closer inspection Select mahogany shows rich caramel hues and fine grain interest Later upholstery over a traditionally stuffed cushion An incurved top rail begins the serpentine delights of the chair Gently cascading arms terminate in broad scroll elbows Balloon back lower cross rail unites the whole Professionally reupholstered in a quality ivy green textile The comfortable seat at a height of 44.5cm (17.5") Golden brocade trim provides a contrast border around the lower edge Raised upon turned baluster legs with peg feet to front and gently splayed square section rears This is a charming antique serpentine arm chair, with rich colour to the select mahogany and quality upholstery. Solid joints and construction. Delivered waxed, polished and ready for the living or drawing room.
