Description

Interesting C19th carved oak armchair of classically inspired form . Large scale carved oak armchair based on the designs of the ancient classical worlds. Closely related in design to Roman curule chairs , a style associate with highest office and used by government and dignitaries. The base of crossed X form design with carved boss decoration, the solid panel seat supporting the acutely- angled downswept arms also with carved volute or corbel features. The rear lumbar support composed of a well-carved bold cross-over splat with a central carved boss . The broad overhanging top-rail of concave form being of figured burr or pollard oak with incised carved decoration comprising classical anthemion or honeysuckle motifs . In excellent original condition with no damage or breaks . Consistent rich hue and patina to the solid oak frame . H 38" W 22" D 20" England c.1870
