Description

George V mahogany 3 pillar dining table This George V mahogany 3 pillar dining table was made in the early 20th century using timber for the top from a Georgian dining table that had become redundant. The table with 2 round ends and a further central section and with 2 leaves to extend the table even further. It has mahogany turned gun barrel columns with triple legs support the table at each end and the central pillar support with quadruple legs. Each leg is fitted with the wonderful cast brass claw toes with the rolling castors under. The table can be used with no leaves. This makes for a very versatile dining table to suit the sitting you require as you entertain your family and friends. As this table does not have a leg to each corner it enables you to get more guests to sit around it. Imagine how good this will look in your dining area and the fun that you will have as you entertain your family and friends. 335cms long 132ins 99cms wide 39ins 73cms high 28 3/4ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference. This George V mahogany 3 pillar dining table is a very green product and has not damaged ou...
