Description

This Regency style mahogany dining table was made in the George VI period. The table stands on a pair of pillars with quadruple legs coming off the gun barrel turned column with brass square capped toes with castors under. The solid mahogany top with rounded corners and a subtle thumb moulding running around the edge. It is a great size that will seat 10 or more comfortably. This table can be used without the leaves in places or a combination of just one or both in place, that allows you so many different options for your required seating arrangements. Imagine how good this will look in your dining area and how much fun you will have entertaining your family and friends. 311cms long fully open with both leaves in place 122ins 113cms wide 44 1/2ins 75cms high 29 1/2ins 208cms closed without leaves 82ins Each extra leaf 51cms 20ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference. This Regency style mahogany dining table is a very green product and has not damaged our environment Delivery We can arrange free delivery to UK mainland; we also have a reliable and good delivery service for single or multiple i...
