Description

A lovely proportioned Longcase clock by K. GANZ of SWANSEA, dating from around 1850. This clock is quite unique in that the case is made principally of mulberry wood ("Here we go round the mulberry bush") which is extremely rare and seldom, if ever, encountered. It is beautifully contrasted and enhanced with mahogany and oak. It has a lovely warm patina with a rich golden colour. The painted, arched dial depicting a country setting of sheep and lambs. It has a subsidiary seconds dial and date ring with original gilded hands and black Roman numerals. The clock has just been fully overhauled and serviced by a fully registered member of the BHI. Twin-train movement striking on a bell.
