Description

A 17th century dated and initialed oak court cupboard of small proportions. The cupboard consists of three carved interlaced panels, a pattern which is commonly found in Westmorland furniture and a carved interlaced fern leaf top rail initialed I.B and dated 1678. The typical door formation of Westmorland cupboards can be found in this piece and internally the boarding is original to the cupboard. A great example of Westmorland furniture with a pleasing colour and surface.
