Description

Superb original condition, professionally serviced with 12 month warranty. Everything apart from the glass is totally original, the diameter is 35mm without the crown and has the original flat footed symbol which in itself is rare. The original beads of rice bracelet is in superb condition with little signs of wear. The 'tropical' dial is simply amazing it has gently and evenly faded to a rich chocolate brown colour and still retains some of the original lume to the batons. The colour of the lume on the dial also exactly matches the colour of the lume on the hands. This one has the best tropical dial I have ever seen with a nice even patina and a definite ring around the edge which is jet black where it was covered by the bezel ring confirming that it is a true and completely original tropical dial. The pushers still retain their graining to the sides so its clearly not had much use. The 320 is the two subdial version of the more widely known calibre 321. The 320 is a much rarer calibre than the 321. The reference is 101.009. The amplitude is over 330 degrees and currently running at plus 5 seconds per day. This is one of the rarest of Omega chronographs and to f...
