Description

This is a magnificent high-quality pair of antique English Edwardian silver plate on copper five-light candelabra, each bearing the maker's mark of the renowned silversmith, Mappin & Webb, silversmith to Her Majesty the Queen and to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, Circa 1900 in date. Each candelabra features an impressive tapering column with remarkable foliate capitals and a distinctive square shaped and stepped base that is further embellished with embossed decoration, this additional ornamentation to the base is highly desirable. Each candelabra has four stunning decorative branches which feature truly splendid chased scroll design with stunning floral and foliate cast motifs throughout. All sconces are detachable and feature matching decoration to the borders. The central sconces are fitted with detachable flaming torch finials. The attention to detail is absolutely fantastic and this high-value pair is certain to attract attention wherever placed. Condition: In excellent condition with clear makers marks and no dings, dents or signs of repair. Please see photos for confirmation.
