Description

This is an antique wing-back arm chair. An English, lounge or fireside seat, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910. An inviting chair of comfort and attractive form. Displays a desirable aged patina - some signs of wear and small marks present. Later, high quality upholstery offers an array of golden tones. Solid oak frame shows fine grain interest and dark caramel hues. Of generous proportion and pleasingly heavy. Strong wing-back profile for ideal fireside placement. Tall back affords a comfortable seating position. Traditionally sprung, deep cushioned seat. Further relaxation provided by the broad, rolled arms. Woven silk-cotton upholstery with large foliate pattern, bordered with press-stud trim. Scroll carvings decorate the transition from seat base to arms. Scallop shell motif to the knees decorate the lower rail. Raised upon superb ball and claw feet to the front with gently splayed square rear feet. This is an inviting antique wing-back arm chair, with attractive upholstery and fine carved details. Ready to be enjoyed, this chair is also a prime candidate to be reupholstered to taste. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home. Di...
