Description

A Georgian mahogany table dating from the late 18th / early 19th Century. It stands on square tapering legs with a thick semi-circular solid mahogany top. Originally part of a larger extending dining table, it now makes a great console table. It is excellent quality and the patina and colour of the timber is beautiful. It is in good original condition and displays well. There are signs of age and use, a few surface marks and small knocks around the legs but nothing detrimental. There has been an old repair on one leg but it is strong and sturdy. It has been cleaned and lightly waxed and is ready for use.
