Description

A lovely antique Georgian mahogany corner cabinet. We date this cabinet to the first half of the 19th century. The cabinet consists of a pair of bow front side hinged doors. The right hand door is fitted with a lock (no key supplied, but one could easily be obtained if required). The cabinet has 3 shelves the middle shelf has a shapely cut out. The insides of the cabinet is painted green. The corner cabinet has a height of 42" (107cm), a front width of 27.5" (70cm) and a depth of 19.5" (50cm) from the rear back corner to the outer edge. This lovely Georgian mahogany corner cabinet remains in good condition with some surface markings commensurate with age and usage. There is some wear around some of the door edges and there are some old repairs around the base. The cabinet is missing a small bit of dentil moulding from the top right of the cornice and also missing the internal hook for the left hand door, this does not affect the door from staying shut. The internal green paint also shows some wear. This remains a very stylish and elegant Georgian mahogany corner cabinet which will continue to provide good service for many years to come.
