Description

Georgian style mahogany dining table This Georgian style mahogany dining table was made circa 1920 by a cabinetmaker using redundant antique timber. At this time there was an abundance of scrap timber around that were from antique tables and sideboards that could be salvaged for him to take advantage of this wonderful timber. He could choose the timber with character and figure that was not easily available. The Georgian style mahogany dining table stands on a pair of turned columns with the reeded sweeping legs and brass claw toes with the rolling castors under. This table can be used in with one, both or no leaves in place. Imagine the enjoyment and fun you will have as you entertain your family and friends around the table. 217cms long fully extended 85ins 107cms wide 42ins 75cms high 29 1/2ins 140cms closed without leaves in place 55ins 1st leaf 39cms 15 1/2ins 2nd leaf 37cms 14 1/2ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference.
