Description

A small elegant antique Victorian mahogany single drop leaf work table/ bedside cabinet dating from circa 1850. It features an over sailing top which unusually drops down on one side only, so it can be placed next to a wall or bed. There is lever which protrudes from the thread escutcheon which is pressed down to release a false front which drops down to reveal storage to the interior. It stands on elegant turned legs and overall is in good condition with a richly figured mahogany with good colour and patina. A really good quality piece, it is a small useful size and would make an attractive hall table, bedside side table or be perfect as a small desk for a laptop. Construction/Wood: Mahogany Condition Report: Good original condition – solid and sturdy. Nice patina to the wood. Marks, scuffs and wear commensurate with age. Some ring marks to the top. One of the turned handles is an old replacement. Dimensions: Depth: 46cm Width: 53cm Width Top Open: 74cm Height: 74cm Cupboard Internal: 18cm High x 24cm Wide x 39cm Deep
