Description

Antique Alpine gun metal pocket watch. The watch has a good quality stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The movement is signed with the Alpine logo, a brand name registered by the Swiss watch maker Charles Amex-Droz & Cie in 1890. The movement is protected by an inner lens. The watch measures 49mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is gun metal, an alloy of copper, tin and zinc which was originally used in gun manufacture but was later replaced by steel. There is some surface marking, which is to be expected with gun metal, but overall it is in good condition and the rose gold highlights on the fittings are a handsome feature. The inside of the back cover has the case maker's mark for the renowned case maker François Borgel, supplier of good quality cases to high end brands such as IWC and Longines. The watch glass is in lovely condition. The dial is in super original condition with original pin set blued steel hands, a sunken subsidiary seconds dial and outer minute markers. The watch comes in a new presentation box.
